In Memoriam

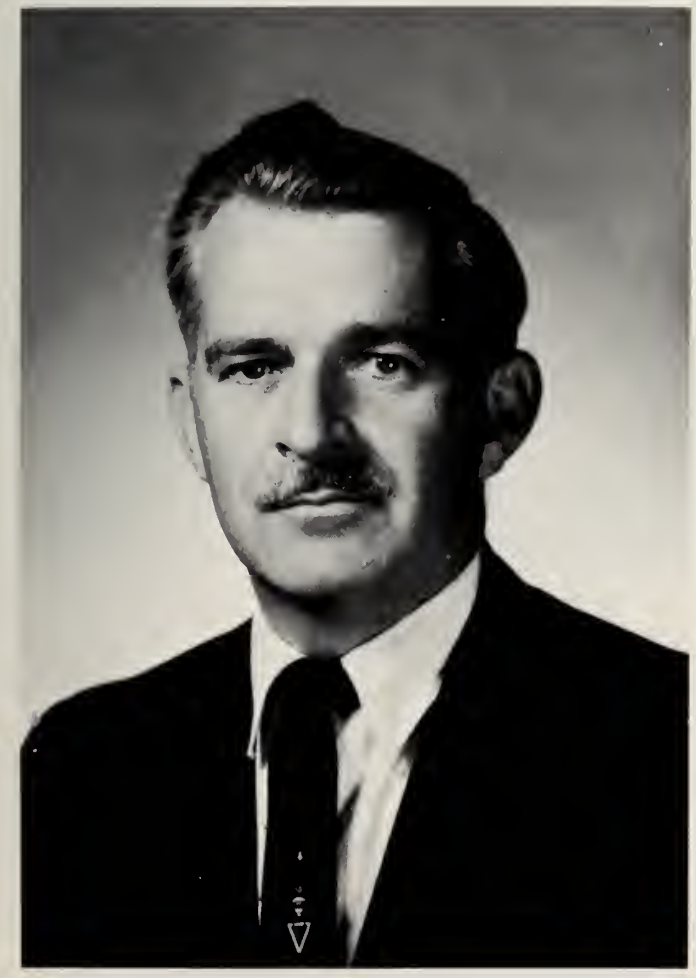
PHILLIP THOMAS RHODES

BORN NOVEMBER 17, 1944

DIED DECEMBER 30, 1955

THE SENIORS HONOR

All our teachers have shown us many kindnesses, have given us understanding, and have provided us with counsel for which we are grateful. But to you, Mrs. Brown, who greeted many of us as freshmen with a cheery yet puzzling "Bonjour" and who willingly guided us through our demanding junior year, we say "Merci, Madame."



And you Mr. Marshall, who pulled us through the Roman Empire to the Russian dictatorship and who taught us the right and wrong of sportsmanship, we salute. All the days of our lives, we, the seniors, will be grateful for the many thoughts both of you have instilled in us.

IN THIS DEDICATION

A SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING

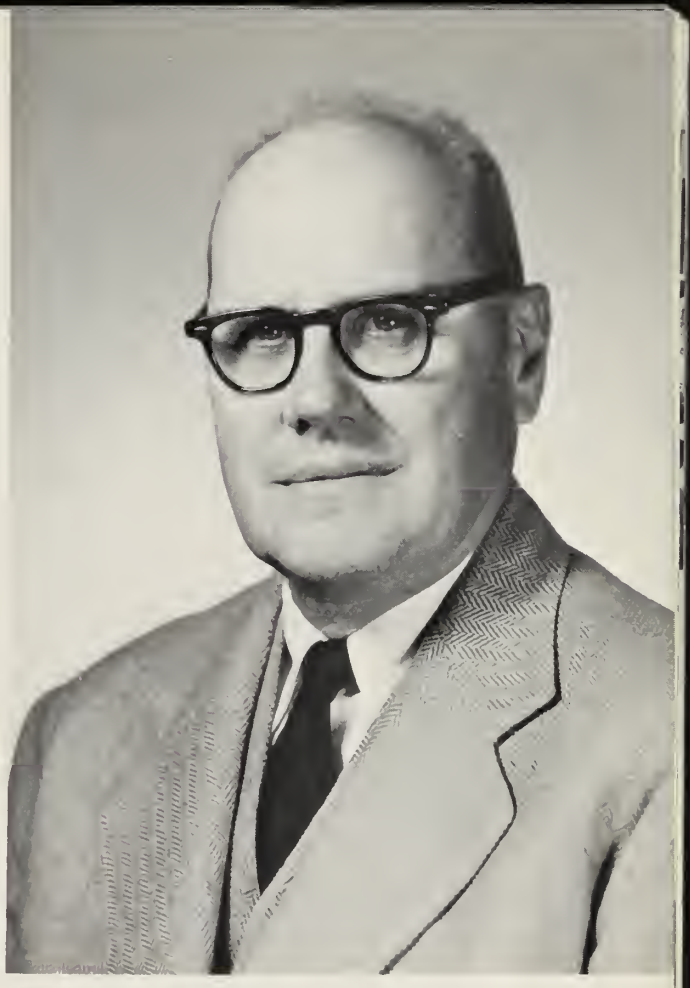
Mr. William MacDonald, Chairman; Mr. Edwin A. Martinson, Superintendent; Mrs. Helen Simmons, Secretary; Mr. John T. Heald, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Hatch, Mr. Ellis C. Rand, Mr. Robert Archer.

Only through cooperative effort can an educational program be provided which will enable pupils to develop desirable knowledge, skills, attitudes, and ideas for present and future living in American democracy.

Our school board members provide this cooperative effort and effective educational leadership in our community. To these dedicated, responsible people are we, the members of the Senior Class, thankful for their continuing contributions to an effective learning environment.

ADMINISTRATION

The maintenance and management of the school plant and its facilities in addition to providing professional leadership in the educational program and its related services is the task which faces the administration of any secondary school. We, the members of the Senior Class, recognizing the size of this responsibility, wish to express our sincere appreciation to our administrators, Superintendent Edwin A. Martinson and Principal James P. Romeo. These two men bring to their positions both experience, gained through years of dedicated service, and vigor and enthusiasm characteristic of youth.



EDWIN A. MARTINSON,

Superintendent of Schools

Principal of the High School

JAMES P. ROMEO,

For Our Years of Reflection

Patricia McGuire Elizabeth Leach

We have compiled our 1962 TIDE--our record of listening, learning, and living together for four short high school years--to depict our growing, our playing, and our studying in an organized environment in order to function fruitfully and "to be the world we want."

Our courses and our teachers have given us ideas of what we will face in our world-to-be. We, as individuals, hope to reflect the qualities of those people who work for and in an intelligent peaceful world.

We trust that this TIDE will bring joy and happiness in the years of reflection. Our thanks go to all those who made this record possible, especially our advisers, Miss Elizabeth Ellard and Mrs. Idyla Etelman.

Sincerely,

Patricia McGuire and Elizabeth Leach

Advisers and Friends, WE THANK YOU.

MRS. IDYLA ETELMAN
Production

The patience, fortitude, and optimism of our two faithful advisers have sustained us from timid beginning to proud finish. Through our maze of inexperience and frustration they guided us until we were a staff, and continued working beside us through long hours. Our disappointments were theirs and our satisfactions theirs.

The wise ones? Maybe not yet. but in the process of working, living, studying, and playing together, we are absorbing wisdom. On the platform, we are learning parliamentary procedure as we move, second, and vote. In our treasury, the funds are accumulating through the sale of candy at the football games; in January we will hold a record hop. In the classroom we are struggling toward our conversion into upperclassmen.

We swept into high school 148 strong, the largest freshman class ever. As we crossed the threshold, we were coralled into the auditorium; we met our teachers, received our schedules, and entered a new world. Though the school was shaped like a block, it seemed more like a maze of confusing corridors. Mr. Scott helped us to disentangle ourselves and begin our tasks. First, we elected class officers. Then we launched two new projects--selling coke at the games, and collecting class dues. Now with a sigh of relief, another freshman class appears, and we are sophomores!

We Sponsor A

CAREER DAY

April 26, 1961

OUR DAY consisted of an assembly in the morning and three periods of lectures given by people in the community. Topics covered the fields of employment: music, health, law, secretarial training, chemistry, and engineering . . . This year the council has a new adviser, Mr. John Cameron, who has done an excellent job in advising and supervising our projects and activities. Our big project was hosting the Southeastern Massachusetts Student Council Convention on April 24, 1962. This convention at Marshfield proved to be an interesting and rewarding experience for all who attended. We were very proud of Jeffrey Rowe, our council president and also president of the Southeastern Massachusetts Student Council.

Debating Club: Kathy Kindamo, Michele Jacobsen, Cyrena Veader, Dan Davis, Virginia Mooney, Diane Sheehan, Mr. Deasy, Advisor, Barry Burkhardt.

THE DEBATING SOCIETY

This newly organized group, under the direction of Mr. Richard Deasy, began debating November 9. The debates were scheduled for every Thursday until March first. Recently the society debated the following resolution: Resolved: The federal government should equalize opportunities for education by means of grants to the states for public schools.

On November 15 the group attended an exhibition debate and dinner sponsored by Eastern Nazarene College. The society joined the South Shore Debate League. The state finals ended the debating year. The society enjoyed their work and felt well rewarded at the completion of the debating period.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Nine more seniors were inducted into the society on October 11, 1961 bringing membership to eighteen. Taking part in the induction were Ada Porcello as Leadership, Winnie Williams as Character, Cathy Taylor as Service, Kathy Reardon as Scholarship, Melissa Rich as the Spirit of the Torch, and Jeff Rowe as the Emblem. One Saturday morning with much appreciated help we planted the 2500 bulbs given to the school by the National Honor Society members of 1960. We witnessed a flower-bursting spring display of color in the courtyard.

THE AUDIO-VISUAL CLUB

The Audio-Visual Club was started this year. Its sixteen members meet every Tuesday morning in the Audio-Visual room of the library.

Pat McGuire is this year's captain. The club members provide various services: they show films, filmstrips, tapes, records; they perform minor repair work on the equipment; they assist in ordering films and cataloging.

A club member is on duty in the Aduio-Visual room throughout the day. Mr. Paul Kelley of the faculty is in charge of this useful and growing department.

THE LIBRARY CLUB

The library, under the capable direction of Miss Woodward, has developed into a serviceable part of our high school.

In only two years growing time, numerous books, both fiction and reference, have been added to the once-bare shelves. Extra services constantly supply the student body: the extensive READER'S GUIDE, orientation in library use, inter-library loans, and the issuance of up-to-date reading lists periodically.

The most satisfying accomplishment has been the ever-increasing interest in the Student Librarians Club. This organization not only aids in the running of the library, but also plans programs such as the sale of Data-Guides and the assembly which presented Mr. Edward Rowe Snow, a local author.

The Annual Book Fair, designed to encourage reading, proved successful in every way for the third year. The students pored over the paperback books, made many selections and purchases, to the end that more reading interest was evident.

THE NEWSPAPER CLUB

October was organization month for the 1961-1962 Ram-bler, under the direction of two new advisers, Miss Gibbons of the Commercial Department and Mrs. Saunders of the English Department.

Editor Gerry Gannon presided over numerous meetings as plans got under way for the first issue. Once the stories and articles were in and approved, the production staff took over, efficiently typing and setting up each page until work was completed. The finished result was well received by the student body.

A small charge is made for each issue in order to prepare for a future printed edition. This goal is the second main objective of the club, the first being to present the best newspaper possible to M.H.S. students.

The Science Club last year arranged many field trips for interested students. These students visited a food and drug laboratory and heard lectures on the industrial diamond and the gyro-control of the polaris missle. During Engineers' Week they visited a laboratory for electronics, exibited an automatic tracing sextant, and heard a speaker from D.S. Kennedy Company. Each individual student entered a project in the Science Fair in March. After the projects were judged, grand prizes were awarded to Linda Lantz, Thomas Scott, and Philip Oakman. Thomas Scott was chosen to represent the Massachusetts Department of Education at the Eastern States Exposition.

The Biology Club cooperated with the National Honor Society in planting tulip bulbs in the courtyard of the High School, beginning its studyof nature.

THE MUSIC GROUPS

The Marshalairs

Instead of a general chorus group as in former years, both a girls' and a boys' chorus organized in September. The girls vastly outnumbered the boys, but each group improved equally. The new set-up has created added musical interest among more students.

The Marshalairs and Band performed at the annual Christmas program. Again in the spring they gave a joint performance to aid the school's music fund.

The Southeastern Massachusetts District Music Festival held in January at our own high school sparked the schedule. About five hundred talented musicians representing forty-nine schools joined in giving two concerts at which orchestra, choral, and band groups performed. The gala event brought out the musical achievements of these young people.

THE CHEERLEADERS

A loud and peppy "M-Clap" began the cheerleading activities for the 1961-1962 season. Pep rallies led the way to better school spirit and greater game attendance. At one rally, male cheerleaders assisted the girls in bringing the group spirits up to a high pitch.

Another boost toward better school spirit was provided by the booklet of Marshfield High School cheers, edited by the cheerleaders and published by our business department.

New uniforms and sweaters also added a new look and a zing to the squad.

Substitute cheerleaders: S. Fortunow, J. Cathcart, C. McCarty, Captain, N. Curtin, D. Sheehan.

Majorettes: C. Heuser, H. Brandt, B. Coggeshall, Captain, D. Kent, D. dePourtales.

THE MAJORETTES

VENTRESS MEMORIAL LIBRARY MARSHFIELD, MASS.

By their performances during the 1961 school year, the Majorettes have made a fine impression on the entire school body. The time and effort that the girls spent in practice became readily apparent as they executed precision maneuvers and intricate marching routines. Their most enjoyable half-time performances provided an excellent diversion from the grueling football games and contributed much to the Rams' successful season.

Although the girls are always present at the games and the rallies, their efforts are not entirely directed towards sports. They participate annually in the Veterans Day Parade and in the Memorial Day Parade. The Spring Concert is another annual event that is looked upon with great interest. Here the girls team up in doubles for a more individual performance.

Ready to march at the half!

SOFTBALL — SPRING — 1961

Under Miss Vanasse's direction and Gretchen Thomas's leadership, the softball team worked diligently for a tri-championship with Cohasset and Duxbury. The team's strength was in its outfield. Two outstanding team members were Carol Pink, who, as pitcher, struck out eight girls in each of the two games, and Carolyn Fletcher who hit two home-runs and a triple in one game.

The high point of the season was the last game. Scituate was leading nine to three, when, in the last inning, Marshfield came through with six runs. The game went into extra innings; our girls made the winning run. We beat our long-standing rivals, Scituate! But then, the best games are always the closest!

BASEBALL — 1961

Though the baseball team was young and inexperienced, it worked diligently for a good season. Although the team won only six out of eleven games, Coaches Reed and Erickson anticipate a more successful season in 1962 since only two members were seniors. Whatever the final scores added up to, Marshfield can be proud that the baseball team played with characteristic Marshfield spirit and good sportsmanship.

TENNIS

Marshfield's small but varied group of tennis enthusiasts hope to become contenders in future tennis tournaments and to make tennis a popular sport at Marshfield High. Thus far tennis has been organized only on an intramural basis. There have been many Marshfield students who have shown interest in tennis, but have been discouraged by the lack of interscholastic competition. This situation will change in the coming years according to the thoughts and interests of the present participants.

TRACK — SPRING — 1961

Although the track team did not have an outstanding season, we did have several outstanding players, most of them underclassmen. We lost James Domineau, captain; Peter Hailer, David Allen, Bruce Freedon and Vincent Gookin through graduation. Geoffrey Mann was our only mile runner and Richard Thomas was the winner of the South Shore Championship in the low hurdles. Many of our underclassmen now have a high record to use as an example of the rewards of hard work.

FIELD HOCKEY

Coaches Miss Vanesse and Mrs. Swigert worked with the team through an exciting season. Captains Mabel Dubois, Carolyn Fletcher, and Linda Pentheny led the team to a razzle-dazzle and well-earned championship.

The game with Scituate developed into the most exciting game played. Each team was defending its status as a number one contender for the championship. Marshfield came through with three goals to Scituate's one, clinching the championship of the South Shore League.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

Full of energy and high hopes the girls' basketball team began its season. Under the co-captains' (Maureen Venti, Carol Pink) leadership the team has had a successful season. The defensive plays of the three guards, Carolyn Fletcher, Dawn Foote, and Jacqueline Hynes, stopped any of the opponents' onsurges.

The most exciting game of the season was with Hull High School. With less than a minute to play and the score tied 19 to 19, Gail Sherman sunk two foul shots to break the tie! The girls went on to win the game 23 to 21! The capable coaching of Miss Vanasse and Mrs. Swigert headed the girls toward another South Shore League championship!

BASKETBALL

What a season! a few points, even one point at times, might have changed defeat into victory. Nevertheless, the spirit and attitude of the squad never wavered. At every game the team came onto the floor TO WIN. Despite the season's results, the boys learned a great deal through the challenging playing experiences. There were only four seniors on the squad: Bob Murray, Steve O'Brien, Joe Marmai, and Clark Angier. Coaches Erickson and Searfoss expect a strong experienced nucleus of players next season; five juniors and two sophomores should enhance the prospects of the 1962-1963 varsity.
